Keep Track of Everything

hh2 Field Reports lets you keep track of the smallest details that occur on your job site. Now you can record construction activities using pre-built forms that can cover everything from weather to subcontractors. If you need to track data that isn't included in our pre-built forms, create your own custom forms to start tracking today.

Detailed Field Activities

With the Daily Activity Worksheet, you can keep track of production units and percentage complete for every cost code you use at your job site. With an intuitive interface that makes it simple to calculate and enter in your numbers, it has never been easier to keep your daily activities on a job so up-to-date.

Optimized for the Device

hh2 Field Reports is a cloud-based reporting solution. Your employees submit their daily logs through a mobile app for smartphones and tablets, or through a web browser on their laptop or desktop computer. Each interface is finely crafted for the device you are using. We support the popular web browsers and have custom apps for iOS and Android devices.

“ I think my favorite feature of Field Reports is being able to take some of these paper reports and, through the custom tabs, be able to create that form. Like a lot of the OSHA stuff I created—my safety guy just gave me some forms and I was able to put a report together very easily.
