Customizable Approval Process

Want your employees to enter their own time? No problem. Want your supervisors to handle time entry? We support that, too. In fact, we support rules-based routing where you have precise control over who enters and approves the time each step of the way. hh2 Remote Payroll supports multiple approval levels, types, report viewers and even passive approval.

Optimized for the Device

hh2 Remote Payroll is a cloud-based time entry solution that allows employees or their supervisors to log time using a web browser on computers or native mobile apps on iOS and Android devices. The software provides a finely crafted interface designed for each device, ensuring you have an optimal user experience. Enter, code, and approve time from anywhere, providing the ultimate flexibility for managing your time entry process.

Integrates with leading construction ERPs and Accounting Systems

hh2 Remote Payroll integrates seamlessly with popular construction ERPs so your accounting system and time entry system remain fully synched. This ensures that employees, jobs, cost codes, general ledger accounts, departments, pay types, and other accounting information is always there when you need it and employee time is imported effortlessly.
